THE JOURNAL

OF

THE

AMERICAN MATHEMATICAL SOCIETY

OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

CHICAGO, ILL.

THE JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN MATHEMATICAL SOCIETY, published quarterly, contains original research papers in all branches of mathematics. The scope of the journal is broad, and it is particularly interested in the publication of papers of a fundamental character. The journal is published by the American Mathematical Society, of which the University of Chicago is a member. The Society was organized in 1894, and has since that time been engaged in the promotion of mathematical research and the publication of mathematical literature. The journal is one of the most important of the Society's publications, and it is a pleasure to announce that it has been elected a member of the International Union of Pure and Applied Mathematics.

Comment

The attached IMO model courses provide complete information for the operation of short courses in each of the subject areas. The model courses can be followed as described, or can be amended to suit local circumstances. In addition the Fisheries Training Programme of the SPC has further developed lesson plans, prepared reference materials and videos; and OHPs specially for the operation of pre-sea safety courses based on the IMO model courses. These materials will greatly assist with the operation of these modules and institutions can get copies of all the materials by contacting:
