2019 Leaving no one behind

As the Pacific approaches the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals, it's time to work together to address one in which our region is trailing the rest of the world: ensuring access to safe and secure drinking water for all Pacific Islanders.

* Data from the UN Joint Monitoring Programme, which estimates that only 48% of people living in Pacific Island Countries had access to at least basic drinking water facilities in 2015.
